The Senior Class And The Staff

PRESENTS

The CHIMES Nineteen-Fifty

And We Dedicate It To Dean C.

"In reflecting on the past and the future, we feel that some day we would like to be the MAN you are today."

N. Shutt

MEMORIES

"So when with prayers and vows I had implored the peoples of the dead, I took the sheep and cut their throats over the pit, and forth the dark blood flowed. Then gathered there spirits from out of Erebus of those now dead and gone, brides, and unwedded youths, and worn old men, delicate maids with hearts but new to sorrow, and many pierced with brazen spears, men slain in fight, wearing their blood-stained armor."

The Odyssey, Book XI

Memory is a dim spectre that walks dark minds, unseen,
Until it etches itself sharply and poetically
there,
By eager taste of remembrance-blood—a poem in an out-worn text,
an aging photograph, this book, rediscovered upon the shelf.
And this is your heritage, your immortality:
A friend at the morning window, suddenly startled by a familiar stance.

O Lost! And by the wind, grieved, Ghost, come back to me.
O mountain-dwelling ghost,
O so briefly parlor visitor.

"Take your mark . . . get set . . ."

These words, plus the sharp sound of the starter's gun, were historic words in this year's Foundation sports year as the Lion swimmers stroked their way to the Kentucky State High School Championship . . . a fitting climax to a sports year of thrills, chills, and excitement . . . there was the basketball season . . . the rebuilding of a new team of basketball stalwarts . . . the names of Billy Evans, Ronald Gibson, Lee Roy Baker . . . playing their last year as Lion seniors . . . the season games . . . the district tournament . . . the loss of Coach Fenn as the director of Lion teams . . . a year of activity that will be remembered, remembered, and remembered . . . . . .

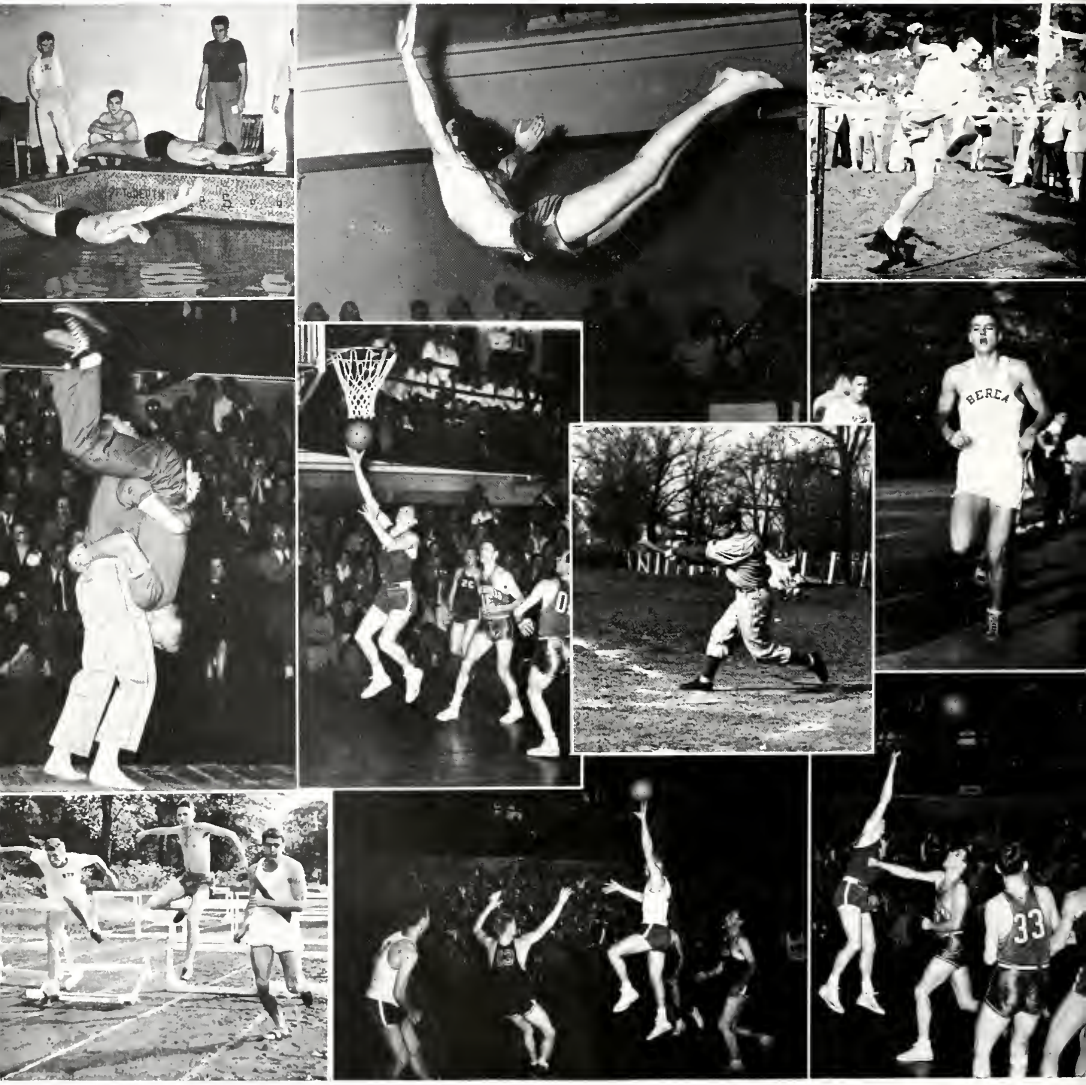
Berea Sports



NEWS STORY . . . . . Berea, Ky., June 5— (Special To The Courier) O. H. Gunkler, Athletic Director of Berea College, said today that the Berea sports year has been one of the best in history. "Perhaps we have not won as many games as in previous years," he said, "but we must consider other factors in judging the year as a success. We have had more men participating, a great number of events, and much interest on the part of the campus as a whole." Gunkler mentioned the extraordinary interest in the men's intramural program, the K.I.A.C. basketball tournament that was held at Berea, and the activities of the Mountaineer track, tennis, swimming, basketball, baseball . . . . . .

Rear: Capps, Wilson, Brown.

Mr. Gunkler's statement on the preceeding page is undoubtedly correct; it was a good Mountaineer sports year . . . . . from the opening whistle of the basketball season to the final event of the K.I.A.C. track and tennis meets . . . . . it was apparent that Bereans were enjoying the sports program . . . . . there was the traditional Alumni-Varsity tilt, which the Varsity won 42-36 as Coach C. H. Wyatt unwrapped his 1949-50 Mountaineer basketball team . . . . . there was the basketball season with its series of losing streaks and winning spurts . . . . . the K.I.A.C. tournament at Berea as five member schools invaded the campus with scads and scads of slightly hysterical fans . . . . . the announcement of the final record . . . . . seven wins and 13 losses . . . . . the rank of fourth in the conference . . . . . Kentucky Wesleyan winning the tournament . . . . . Players, coaches, and fans had the perturbation, tumult, commotion and general furore typical of a basketball season . . . . . and there were the Mountaineer cheerleaders . . . . . dressed as the players in the clean blue and white . . . . . urging support for the players . . . . . it was good to see the tremendous bursts of encouragement the Berea leaders drew from the fans until the termination of the sports year . . . . . the swimming team . . . . . cross country squad . . . . .

The Varsity teams were not the only ones in action . . . . . the men's intramural program was in full swing . . . . . Saturday afternoons on the football field . . . . . nightly basketball games in Seabury Gym as dormitory teams endeavored to win for their respective dorms . . . . . intramural track . . . . . table tennis . . . . . handball . . . . . .

DIRECTOR O. H. GUNKLER

In the midst of the sports activity we found Athletic Director Gunkler, Coaches Wyatt and Fenn . . . . . a familiar sight to Bereans . . . . . Gunkler's bowties . . . . . tournament manager . . . . . taking part in a tumbling act . . . . . instructing instructors . . . . . the man who makes the schedules and keeps his eye on the administrative end of the Athletic Department plus filling in as coach and teacher . . . . . Wyatt in a warmup jacket . . . . . baseball togs . . . . . Fenn directing the swimming team and the aquacade chorus . . . . . Wilson Evans piloting the tennis squad . . . . .

And across the campus Miss Macaulay directing the Women's Department, assisted by Miss Caldwell and Miss Reid . . . . . the women's athletic program . . . . not in the headlines as much but just as active . . . . .

After basketball came the spring sports . . . . . track . . . . . tennis . . . . . and baseball . . . . . swimming . . . . . the aquacade . . . . . K.I.A.C. teams playing for the conference crown . . . . . Berea's third intercollegiate baseball team . . . . . a good season . . . .

The scene of the sports activity . . . . . the Charles Ward Seabury Gymnasium for Men and Woods-Penniman Building . . . . . the names suggest every type of sports activity from handball to badminton . . . . . physical education requirements . . . . . Saturday night games, dances, Monday night swimming sessions, folk festivals, open house . . . . .

"Seabury Gym . . . . . dedicated to the young men of Berea in hope that they may here train their bodies to be swift and enduring servants . . . that they may learn to play in generous rivalry and cooperation . . . . "

And women's sports cannot be overlooked . . . . . W. A. A. activities every Saturday . . . . State Play Day . . . . basketball . . . . badminton . . . . field hockey . . . . Swimming . . . . no one going through chow line could fail to notice the unique W.A.A. posters . . . . an effective reminder that it was time to play . . . .

Berea Sports . . . . . action and excitement . . . . . but builders of courage, leadership, and character.
